MODERN METHODOLOGY OF TEACHING ENGLISH

Matjanova Malika

Karakalpak State University Faculty of foreign languages philology and Language Teaching English 2nd year student

Матжанова Малика

Каракалпакский государственный университет Факультет иностранных языков преподавание филологии и языков английский язык студент 2 курса

Annotation: the use of modern techniques in teaching English is covered in this article. In addition to improving speech and vocabulary, the main purpose of teaching foreign languages to preschool children is to help them acquire useful English skills.

Keywords: English, modern methods, speech, foreign languages, information, technology, educational system, educational process, teaching methods, globalization.

СОВРЕМЕННАЯ МЕТОДИКА ПРЕПОДАВАНИЯ АНГЛИЙСКОГО ЯЗЫКА

Аннотация: использование современных методик в обучении английскому языку рассмотрено в данной статье. Основная цель обучения дошкольников иностранным языкам, помимо улучшения речи и словарного запаса, заключается в том, чтобы помочь им приобрести полезные навыки английского языка.

Ключевые слова: английский язык, современные методы, речь, иностранные языки, информация, технологии, система образования, учебный процесс, методы обучения, глобализация.

In everyday life, people increasingly choose to speak English. The global influence of English-language films, music, and popular culture contributed to its widespread use. People often want to deal with and understand these cultural products. English is the dominant language on the internet and on various social media platforms. People communicate, share and communicate online in English, which affects its distribution. English facilitates global networking and connections. People communicate with professionals, colleagues and friends from all over the world, and English often serves as a common language. English is often the medium of instruction in higher education, requiring many students to learn and use English to succeed in their academic pursuits. Knowledge of English is useful, for example, in English there is a lot of information and resources. This includes books, scientific research, online content, and media. English-speaking people access these valuable resources more easily. English is widely spoken in the tourism industry. Knowledge of English can facilitate travel and facilitate interaction with people from different countries. English is important in today's modern life, so new methods should be used in teaching English. In doing so, teachers learn interactive methods and curricula and help students learn through new technologies and websites. Individual approach: each student must take an individual approach based on the requirements and needs of learning and development.

The teacher must guide the students with appropriate approach methods. Spiritual applicability: teachers need to support students morally and solve moral problems and problems while teaching. Support teaching for research: educators conduct research so that they can seek innovation and conduct research in their fields. This will help to better organize the learning process. Interactivity: teachers must support interactive methods when teaching classes, such as making teaching interactive through textbooks, supplements, video conferencing, websites, and applications. International cooperation: teachers can seek opportunities to collaborate and benefit from other teachers through an international network. Knowledge of new technologies and teaching tools: teachers learn about new technologies, applications and teaching tools, as well as the best practices of online teaching. Creativity: teachers need to support the creativity of students in mastering educational materials, learning and learning new ways of teaching.

One of the modern teaching methods in the world of modern technology is online teaching. Online learning has several advantages: An online education site or app allows students and teachers to receive education from anywhere in the world. Students can choose their own study schedules based on their consumption and personal comfort.

Online education provides students with access to texts, videos, programs, audio materials, and additional learning resources. Online learning helps the student's flexibility and learning skills. They can choose and implement their own educational programs and methods. Online tutors can provide students with a programmatic approach and support. They benefit students through additional advice and approaches.

With online education, students receive more personalized tutoring, volunteer tutoring, and interactivity than other methods. An online education site or app accepts students from anywhere in the world, and the geographic location of teachers is also not limited.

Teaching in online education is facilitated by the benefits of today's technology, such as interactive tutorials, video conferencing, tips and other opportunities. To know in which language students want to study and to give them the opportunity to choose the subjects they are interested in. Using additional materials, videos, supplements, and games to make language teaching lessons fun and interactive.

Create a curriculum that shows what steps students take to learn another language. Additional resources such as books, audio materials, and online resources help students learn other languages. Create opportunities for students to learn other languages by talking to a group, watching cartoons and movies, and getting to know students from other countries. Conducting Language Teaching through a spiritual approach, trying to make the study of additional languages dependent on the comfort and faith of a person. Teachers must be experts in teaching other languages and help students find inspiration.

To be able to support students by explaining their personal needs and with the training methods that suit them. These methods will help make learning another language easy and fun for students. Training in teacher training can be helpful. Training in teacher training can be helpful. Interactive methods and programs: teachers learn interactive methods and programs that help students learn through new technologies and websites. Individual disorders: each student must be treated individually, depending on their studies, requirements and needs. The teacher must guide the students with appropriate test methods. Spiritual support: teachers must provide spiritual support to students and solve moral problems and problems during the teaching process. O learning support: teachers manage volume to search and review their news. This will help to better organize the learning process. Interactivity: teachers must support interactive methods such as making teaching interactive through textbooks, supplements, video conferencing, websites, and apps while teaching their classes. International cooperation: teachers may seek to collaborate and benefit from other teachers through an international network.

Knowledge of new technologies and teaching: teachers learn to learn new technologies, applications and learning and learn about good practices in online teaching. Creation: teachers need to be supported in mastering educational materials, learning new ways of teaching, and providing learning opportunities.

These definitions will be useful for teachers to teach students well and help them through the learning process. When an interactive whiteboard is used in the classroom, preschoolers may be more encouraged to learn English. These technologies allow young people to actively participate in their education, greatly increase their motivation to learn, foster creativity, and shape their personality. To expand the possibilities of information delivery, provide methodological content in teaching, taking into account the availability of interactive education and the peculiarities of children. Interactive whiteboard classes include children who actively participate in visual exercises, in addition to watching and listening to audio and video content. Using animation capabilities, object selection, motion and color-based selection will allow you to process data through visual and voice channels.

One of the most important ways to teach English is sign language. Affection arises when children see special teachers with kindness and a gentle smile from the educator. Children can move freely and enjoy learning a foreign language using gestures. We create a stimulating environment for language learning. Children should immerse themselves in new situations and enjoy the game, but interactive play should not be confused with role-playing. This is an important issue. The latter is more like a theatrical production. It is very important to organize an interactive game with preschool children, as it allows children to experience social interaction in a meaningful way for them. These types of games allow children to practice speaking with their teachers and peers, as well as participate in coordinated group cognitive exercises that promote social growth.

REFERENCES

1. Nematillaevna, K. Y. (2022). MODERN METHODS OF TREATING GLAUCOMA. World Bulletin of Public Health, 17, 42-44.

2. Холматова, Е. Н., & Тоирова, Ш. А. (2017). Деонтология и пути решения задач. Научные исследования, (3 (14)), 45-47.

3. Kh, T. M., & Khujamberdiev, T. (2022). THE ROLE OF NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OF UZBEKISTAN IN MORAL AND LEGAL RELATIONS. Gospodarka i Innowacje.

4. Xoldarvoevna, T. M. Some Comments on the German Education System. International Journal on Integrated Education, 3(12), 407-409.